

We belong to one family -- but we're all different.

“If you meet those of different race and colour from yourself.....be glad and show them kindness.”

Because all the notes are different,
this music sounds
GREAT!!!

We are all different!

Everybody has special things they're good at. Being good at something doesn't make us better than other people. But because we're all different, everything gets done.

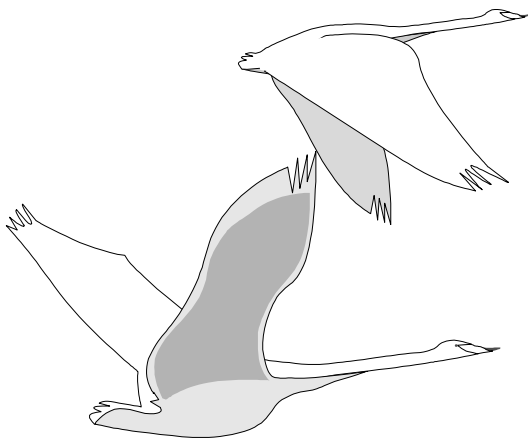

Women are especially good at some things.....

.....And men are better at others.

Women and men often have different jobs to do, but they are just as important and necessary as each other.

Men and women are like the two wings of a bird. The bird can only fly properly when the two wings are equally strong, and equally well looked after.
