

The Picnic

The children were going to have a picnic. All except Liam. He'd fallen yesterday and broken his arm. He was very sad because he was not able to go on the picnic.

Gavin had a good idea. "Why don't we have the picnic in Liam's garden?" he said.

So that is what they did, and they all had a lovely time, especially Liam.

'Abdu'l-Bahá said:

"It is your duty to be exceedingly kind to every human being."

Make Liam's garden really beautiful.
Every time you do something kind colour one of the things in the garden.

