

Dear Children,

I hope you enjoy this issue of Dayspring, which again is about how we can help to look after our Planet. As time goes by people are using more and more of the earth's riches and throwing away more and more rubbish. In this Dayspring there are some ideas of how we can try to help with this problem. You will see how 'Abdu'l-Bahá always shared what He had, and did not keep buying new things when old ones would do. As always He gives us the best example to follow.

Everything we have comes from God and this is a reason why we should be careful not to waste things.

You will also find copies of some lovely bookmarks that were sent in for the Thomas Breakwell competition, and at the end of your Dayspring is another lesson on 'Huqúqu'lláh' for you to do with an adult.

Please keep sending things to be printed : - jokes, pictures, stories etc.

Please send to: Maggie Manvell, 25, Lower Breakish, Isle of Skye,
